

mailFactory® DocumentControl

Short Description

mailFactory® DocumentControl enables the active control of mail processing at document level, printing at the output and handling job transitions smoothly.

Main features

Control File

- Job and mail piece handling according to control file information.
- Control file update according to the actual processing data.

Job Transition

DocumentControl automates the changeover of jobs smoothly. This function minimizes process losses.

Automatic Job Setup

Automated job setup is supported at the inserter by using scanned information. This helps to prevent errors in job handling.

Output Control

Additional devices, ex. printer, can be piloted through the information of the control file.

Media Control

This option allows verifying envelopes and inserts from the feeding stations.

Product overview

mailFactory DocumentControl drives and verifies the mail production on document level with a previously provided control file. For every mail piece, the software transmits file based instructions like the collation of pages to the inserting system. Therefore the control information for an inserting system can be handled separately from the printed information; the electronic content can be revised during the production cycle.

To optimize the production process the software provides the possibility to manage job transitions smoothly. There are opportunities to steer different devices like for instance, printers at the output, according to the control file information. The status of every mail piece is updated during the processing. After the run, a reprint file with all incomplete mail pieces will be generated. mailFactory DocumentControl together with mailFactory ReprintControl enables the complete management of reprints in a closed loop environment. Using the option mailFactory MediaControl, the inserts of an additional feeding station and the envelope type can be validated and controlled.
